My dear Mamma

I do not think I shall be able to enclose a long letter this mail, as I am not at all strong yet, but I will make a beginning, and you will perhaps add something if I am not able to finish. He came to Cisca last Monday, from Futtepoore, and brought me home on Tuesday. Since then I have had Dr Jones, who says that the swelling in my face was erysipelas though I had no pain accompanying it. On Wednesday night I had a most frantic headache, which he said proceeded from the <sup>same</sup> cause. However it is quite gone now and I am only feeling weak in consequence of the fever. He came time to see me yesterday. Mrs Dalby is very kind coming in every day to make me arrisroot or corn flour or anything I want, and she takes the accounts for me. Tomorrow however I hope to be able to do them myself. I am going for a drive this afternoon. The cool weather is setting in now, so it is a good time for us here to be better. Mrs Dalby has had fever two
